DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the balloon having a folded noninflated configuration must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. On page 6 and page 11 of Applicant's specification, the balloon is disclosed as not requiring folding. However, in amended claim 1, the balloon is claimed as "having a folded noninflated configuration."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3738

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-5,7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Felt et al. (6140452). Felt et al. disclose that the balloon is folded and within the lumen of a sheath or elongated shaft, col. 33, lines 19-24. Felt also discloses the balloon is made from block copolymers, such as a polycarbonate based aromatic polyurethane copolymer or trade-name Bionate, col. 34, lines 56-58,63. The balloon is inherently axially noncompliant. The examiner asserts that the claimed physical properties (in this case, balloon compliance about 0.012 to about 0.016 mm/atm and a tensile elongation of about 250%, a flex modulus about 300,000 psi and a rupture pressure greater than 18 atm) are present in the prior art material to some extent even though they are not explicitly recited. Therefore, the examiner hereby burdens the applicant to show that these properties are not present in the prior art. Please note the process of obtaining the polyurethane block copolymer is irrelevant to claim and given no weight because the materials for the balloon are the same.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Felt et al '452 in view of Miyata et al. (5439443). Felt is explained supra. However, Felt does not disclose how the material for the balloon is formed. Miyata et al. teach that polycarbonates are synthesized using the chain extender 1,4 butanediol, col. 8, lines 41, 42, 68. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use the chain extender 1,4 butanediol for producing polymer blends as taught by Miyata for making a copolymer balloon of polycarbonate polyurethane of Felt et al. to provide a non-compliant balloon.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
